

Debate

Thu, 23/04/2009 - 13:29

Morenoism and the IWL: Opportunism and failed manoeuvres \(History of Morenoism part 2\) [1]

Jack Tully Wed, 30/09/1992 - 10:59

Five years after the death of their leader, Nahuel Moreno, the International Workers? League is undergoing its sharpest crisis yet. Jack Tully examines its record since its foundation in 1982 Read more... [1]

Militant, Marxism and the state [2]

Sat, 01/08/1992 - 22:00

At toy shops they sell a motorised car that rides along until it hits an obstacle then flips over and starts travelling in the opposite direction. The same thing has happened to the politics of Militant in recent months. Read more...[2]

Grant and the CWI: Between Labourism and nationalism [3]

Sun, 07/06/1992 - 22:00

Jeremy Dewar examines the fall out post-split and what the political trajectory of both wings of the Grantite tradition regarding the Scottish national question Read more... [3]

CWI: After the split with Grant [4]

Fri, 31/01/1992 - 23:00

Militant has split. Its long time political leader Ted Grant has left, taking an unknown number of supporters to form a new organisation. Reportedly the majority of Militant?s sympathising groups internationally have sided with Grant Only three years after publishing Grant?s writings as the ?unbroken thread? of continuity with Lenin and Trotsky, Militant members now face the task of a thorough re elaboration of Trotskyism. Read more... [4]

Militant and Labour - perspective in ruins [5]

Wed, 09/10/1991 - 23:00

It would be possible to ?ll page after page with categorical predictions by the leadership of the Militant

Tendency about the imminent triumph of its politics, all of which have been disproved by subs Read more...

[5]

After Walton: more excuses [6]

Tue, 01/10/1991 - 23:00

In the aftermath of the Walton by-election a factional struggle has broken out within the ranks of Militant. Ted Grant, its founder and theoretician, now commands only a small section of its supporters and is seemingly bound for a split. The debate over standing independent candidates reveals deep flaws in the politics of both the Grant minority and Peter Taaffe's majority faction, and calls into question the whole of Militant's method. On the following pages we examine the roots of the argument. Here Paul Morris explains the tactical muddle Militant has created out of the Walton events. Read more... [6]

Centrism in its dotage: USFI 1980-1991 [7]

Mon, 30/09/1991 - 10:59

Of all the international tendencies claiming to be 'the' Fourth International (FI), the United Secretariat of the Fourth International (USFI) has the best claim on at least one score. All the other tendencies (the Lambertists, the Morenoites and the Healyites) are rooted in a national leadership that either left or was expelled from the FI during the period between 1951 and 1963. The USFI can claim an international leadership with a substantial continuity at the level of personnel with the young militants grouped around Michel Pablo who carried out the post-war reconstruction of the International. Read more... [7]

The Poll Tax struggle: No strategy to win [8]

Mon, 04/06/1990 - 22:00

'We live in exciting times' Socialist Worker told its members in its party column in May 1990. True enough. But in exciting times it is the duty of revolutionary Marxists to give a sober assessment of the situation and point the way forward for the working class. The Socialist Workers Party, argues Arthur Merton, has once again proved it can do neither. Read more... [8]

The MAS, the Izquierda Unida and the Argentine elections [9]

Tue, 30/05/1989 - 10:59

In the recent Argentine parliamentary elections, Luis Zamora, a leading member of the Movimiento Al Socialismo (MAS - Movement Towards Socialism?), was elected a deputy. One other MAS member was elected a local deputy for the Buenos Aires region. The press of the International Workers League (LIT), founded by the late Nahuel Moreno is loud in its praise for the 'success' of its Argentinian section: the 'first Trotskyist MP' its members have boasted. Read more... [9]

Militant's peaceful parliamentary road [10]

Stephen Foster and Mark Hoskisson Thu, 30/03/1989 - 10:59

'We have proclaimed hundreds, if not thousands of times that we believe that, armed with a clear programme and perspective, the labour movement in Britain could effect a peaceful socialist transformation.? Peter Taaffe, editor of the Militant

?The supersession of the bourgeois state by the proletarian state is impossible without a violent revolution.? V I Lenin Read more... [10]

- « first [11]
- ? previous [12]
- 1 [11]
- 2 [13]
- 3 [12]
- 4
- 5 [14]
- next ? [14]
- last » [14]

Source URL: <https://fifthinternational.org/content/debate>

Links:

[1] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/morenoism-and-iwl-opportunism-and-failed-manoeuvres-history-morenoism-part-2>

[2] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/militant-marxism-and-state>

[3] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/grant-and-cwi-between-labourism-and-nationalism>

[4] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/cwi-after-split-grant>

[5] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/militant-and-labour-perspective-ruins>

[6] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/after-walton-more-excuses>

[7] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/centrism-its-dotage-usfi-1980-1991>

[8] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/poll-tax-struggle-no-strategy-win>

[9] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/mas-izquierda-unida-and-argentine-elections>

[10] <https://fifthinternational.org/content/militants-peaceful-parliamentary-road>

[11] <https://fifthinternational.org/printpdf/content/debate>

[12] <https://fifthinternational.org/printpdf/content/debate?page=2>

[13] <https://fifthinternational.org/printpdf/content/debate?page=1>

[14] <https://fifthinternational.org/printpdf/content/debate?page=4>