The working class

Fri, 24/04/2009 - 16:08

Bangladesh: Solidarity with student movement [1]
Hasan Raza Sun, 02/09/2018 - 07:30

One month ago, the state authorities in Bangladesh cracked down viciously on mass student protests in Dhaka, the country’s capital. Read more... [1]

May '68: "Everything was possible" [2]
Emile Gallet, Red Flag No 19, May 2018 Sat, 26/05/2018 - 10:39

Fifty years ago this month, France was rocked by the biggest general strike in European history. Read more... [2]

New York: From Union Struggles to Class Struggle at The New School [3]
Mo Sedlak Tue, 22/05/2018 - 20:33

In the last weeks of summer term 2018, the New School, a private non-profit research university centered in Manhattan, New York City, was shaken by a series of struggles by its workers who were finall Read more... [3]

Marc Lassalle, Paris Fri, 04/05/2018 - 13:47

After a month of militant but inconclusive strikes and occupations by railway workers and students, activists are organising to relaunch the mobilisation against the government attacks, with a nation Read more... [4]

Macron declares war on railway workers [5]
Marc Lasalle, Paris Sat, 24/03/2018 - 04:13

On March 22, strikes and demonstrations took place across France. Read more... [5]

West Virginia Teachers: Raising the Class Struggle Stakes [6]
Marcus Otono Thu, 08/03/2018 - 11:46
Truth be told, it caught most of us by surprise. Read more... [8]

Austria: Right wing coalition reveals its plans [7]
Michael Märzen, ArbeiterInnenstandpunkt, Vienna Fri, 12/01/2018 - 16:54

??On December 18, Austria's new government, a coalition of the conservative People's Party, ÖVP, and the extremely right wing, Freedom Party, FPÖ, was inaugurated. Read more... [7]

USA: Another Trickle Down Tax Scam [8]
Marcus Otono Wed, 13/12/2017 - 11:13

The Republicans needed a win. Read more... [8]

Elections in Austria: It is time to fight back! [9]
Lucia Siebenmorgen Tue, 07/11/2017 - 15:47

The results in Austria’s elections on October 15 came as no surprise. Read more... [9]

Labour: the new political centre ground [10]
Editorial, Red Flag No 16, November 2017 Mon, 06/11/2017 - 11:58

Labour?’s Brighton conference was a confirmation that, thanks to a general election in which Labour saw a net gain of 31 seats and the Tories lost their overall majority, Jeremy Corbyn?’s leadership of Read more... [10]